SUMMARY

I am a user experience designer with a nursing background focused on human-centered solutions. I enjoy the process of collecting data from user research and usability testings as means to design relevant and impactful products for both users and stakeholders.

Having worked in the healthcare field, I know how to connect the dots and collaborate with diverse groups of people to come up with effective solutions.

PROJECTS

Connect

in progress

Designing a cloud storage prototype that enabled users to create files, share documents, and access stored data. Conducting preference testings, usability testings, and modified the high-fidelity mock-up accordingly. Utilizing Google Forms, Figma, and UsabilityHub.

The Loft

in progress

Due to the coronavirus pandemic, social distancing has had a direct effect on social interaction, along with mental and physical health. Designing a video conferencing platform that consisted of new innovative features, such as the white board and group huddle sessions. Working in Sketch and Invision.
